

GOLF COURSE UPDATE

February gave us a taste of spring and the warm weather that is to come. It also brought snow, rain and wind. The maintenance crew along with everyone at Red Wolf are excited for this month and to spend more time on the course and see that grass start growing. We greatly appreciate your patience on these cold mornings waiting for the sun to melt off the frost.

As the last of the leaves fall we are hard at work getting them cleaned up. The greens are in wonderful condition for this time of year and we should see the speed and smoothness continue to improve throughout this month. The soil is thawing out and will be able to change hole locations on a more consistent schedule. We will try not to make them too difficult. We will be filling the bunker on hole 14 with new sand in the coming weeks. You will also see Zach Anderson, the new Assistant Superintendent, out on the course digging holes and working on getting the irrigation system ready to fire up for the season.

March is a busy, but very exciting month for us. We hope to see you out enjoying a round of golf, and making a bunch of birdies. We ask that you keep carts on the cart path when around the greens to limit compaction and matting down of grass, and remember to fix ball marks on the greens and fill divots with sand and seed. If the weather is cold call the pro shop or the maintenance shop to get a frost update. If you have any questions or comments don't hesitate to stop me on the course or call me at the maintenance facility.

Thank You,
Tucker Keyes
Golf Course Superintendent

RED WOLF GOLF CLUB MARCH 2023

A Huge Success for Red Wolf Golf Club

Here we are at the Red Wolf Golf Club booth at the 2023 Spokane Golf Show. Many area golfers were looking for the best deals and a place they could play. We were able to educate them on Red Wolf Golf Club and share the pictures we had of the course! They were excited to be able to play during the winter. We got the chance to talk over and promote our upcoming golf tournaments. It was super fun to interact with a lot of golfers from the area using a putting game we set up in our booth. They could win towels, stress balls, golf balls and note pads.

Associate PGA member Keith Kipp Jr., was able to meet some seasoned PGA members that were excited for him and willing to help when needed.

We had a fast paced two days of selling fun and excitement in our little paradise, Red Wolf Golf Club.

Respectfully,
Zeke Domebo,
Outreach Supervisor
